WAUBANAKEE TO TAP PAPOOSES AS 1933 JUNIOR WEEK OPENS

Interfraternity Stunts and Sings are Included in Varied Program

FERDINANDO'S BAND TO PLAY FOR PROM

Archery Meet and Greased Pig Contest Features This Year

The 1933 junior week will be officially opened tomorrow afternoon with the tapping of the Waubanakee Papooses at Porter field at 2:00 o'clock.

The program for the remainder of the day includes a baseball game with the University of Vermont and the interfraternity variety show at the gymnasium at 7:30 p. m.

Friday at 9:30 a. m. the greased pig contest will be held in back of the gymnasium inside the board track. This will be followed by the Pan Hellenic show at the gymnasium and at 11:30 the two lower classes will compete in the soph-frosh rope pull. A baseball game with Williams has been arranged for the afternoon.

The climax of the week's activities will be reached Friday at 9:00 p. m. with the junior prom. Contrary to previous arrangements Felix Ferdinando and his orchestra have been engaged to furnish music for dancing. Fedinando has been engaged through the agency of Robert Murphy of the New Kenmore hotel where the orchestra has played.

Fraternity breakfasts at the various houses at 9:30 a. m. will open the program for Saturday. At 11:00 a. m. a women's archery contest will be held on upper campus. A tennis match and a baseball game will be held in the early part of the afternoon followed by the junior tea at the Middlebury inn. The day's events will be brought to a close with the presentation of "Loyalities" at the playhouse and the interfraternity sing on chapel steps.

SENIOR WEEK PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

Band for Senior Promenade is Same One Engaged for Last Year's Junior Prom

A. Kirkland Sloper '32 announced yesterday that the plans for senior week are nearly completed. Nearly all of the various committees have reported progress on their part.

The senior ball is to be held Monday evening, June 13, and Billy Murphy's Royal Arcadians have been secured to play. This is the same band that was secured last year for the junior prom.

In former years it has been customary to hire a seven or eight piece orchestra, but the committee this year has secured a twelve piece band at reduced rates. This reduction was made possible through the fact that the band is making a tour through this section of the country. The Royal Arcadians have been engaged to play at several other colleges and spring festivals.

It is felt that a most enjoyable program of music will be furnished at the ball. Billy Murphy's orchestra has a very favorable reputation in its home ball room, the Arcadia in New York city, and also in several colleges in the east. The band is well known in eastern summer resorts, and has played at Old Orchard Beach in Maine for the past few years during the summer season.

Undergraduate President Will Be Elected Tuesday

The president of the undergraduate association for the next college year will be elected at a meeting to be held in the gymnasium Tuesday evening, May 17, at 7 o'clock. All undergraduate men are members of this association and are eligible to vote.

Five candidates have been chosen by a committee composed of one member from each of the fraternities, Edward Yerovitz representing the neutral body, and Edward Markowski, present head of the association, chairman. Those nominated are: Clark H. Corliss, John F. Hartrey, Stephen C. Hoyle, Donald B. MacLean, and George E. Yeomans. all of whom are members of the class of 1933.

It will be necessary to vote three times in order to choose the president, two candidates going out on the first ballot, and one on each of the other two.

Other officers of the association will be chosen in the fall by the student council, whose officers automatically assume the same positions in the undergraduate group.

VARSITY DEBATERS WIN OVER VERMONT

Lawrence Prizes Awarded to Duffield, Kline, Yerovitz, and One U.V.M. Man

The Blue and White varsity debating team won by a 2-1 decision over the University of Vermont at the annual Middlebury-Vermont debate held in Burlington Friday evening. All three members of the Middlebury team shared in the Edwin Winship Lawrence individual prizes awarded at the close of the contest.

The first prize of $25 went to Thomas Duffield '33 and the second prize of $15 to Reamer Kline '32, while the third prize of $10 was divided between Edward Yerovitz '33 and R. P. Donaghy of Vermont.

The Middlebury team upheld the negative of the question, resolved, that the United States should cancel its war debts.

The supporters of the affirmative contended that the debts were contracted in time of stress without intention of repayment, and were the contribution of the United States to the war; that since the debtor countries lost more money and men than we, we should not insist on repayment; and that if Europe, an important customer of ours, can possibly be economically rehabilitated, cancellation of her debts would provide the money for such rebuilding.

The negative speakers maintained that the debts were contracted with intention of repayment, and that cancellation of them would establish a precedent dangerous to international credit and provide a license for free warfare.

Members of Mortar Board Hold Initiation and Banquet

The annual Mortar Board banquet was held Thursday, May 5, at the Middlebury inn. Formal initiation was held Thursday afternoon in the Abernethy wing of the library, at which five juniors were made members of the board.

Guests at the banquet were Dean Eleanor S. Ross, Miss Marion L. Young, Miss Ellen E. Wiley and Jilda Pacheco '31, each of whom gave a toast.

Evelyn Clement '32, acted as toastmistress, while Mary Omwake '33 spoke for the junior members of Mortar Board.

Senior members who attended the banquet were Elizabeth Brown, president, Eleanor Benjamin, Alice Cady, Evelyn Clement, Bessie Harris, Georgiana Hulett, Marion Jones, and Elsa Smith. Those from the class of 1933 were Ruth McKinnon, Frances Mullans, Mary Omwake, Elaine Updyke, and Dorothy Wheaton.

DR. HORACE P. SILVER WILL GIVE ADDRESS AT JUNE EXERCISES

Commencement Speaker is Rector of Church in New York

CLERGYMAN NOTED AS FINE LECTURER

Prominent Episcopalian Has Been Chaplain at West Point

The Rev. Horace Percy Silver, D. D., LL. D., has been secured to present the commencement address to the graduating class this June.

Dr. Silver was born in Philadelphia, where he attended school during his younger years, and in 1894 he graduated from the General Theological seminary of the Episcopal church, in New York city. He was ordained deacon the same year and priest the following year. Since that time he has done parish work, and from 1901 to 1910 he was a chaplain in the United States army. He spent several years with the J. B. Lippincott Co., a publishing house in Philadelphia, and from 1913 to 1918 he held the office of chaplain of the United States military academy at West Point.

Dr. Silver has been elected bishop of the Episcopal church several times, but he has repeatedly declined the position. At the present time he is rector of the Church of the Incarnation in New York city, where he has been since 1918.

In addition to his clerical activities, Dr. Silver has reached the thirty-second degree of Masonry, and is a Knight of the Red Cross of Constantine.

FIRST PARKER PRIZE AWARDED TO MORRIS

Stafford, Willis, Waggoner, Win Next Three Places in Annual Speaking Contest

William Morris was the recipient of first prize in the annual Parker prize speaking contest held May 4 in Mead memorial chapel. Robert T. Stafford, Lothrop Willis, and Hyatt Waggoner were awarded the second, third, and fourth prizes respectively.

Morris spoke on the subject, "Is Religion an Answer to War?", stressing the fact that in the past, people hypnotized by an insincere patriotism and deceived by lies, had fought for vested interests in the belief that they were fighting for their ideals. But now there is only one real battle against the lie, the half-truth. The coming religion is seeking to express itself in international understanding and a greater trust.

Robert T. Stafford, speaking on "World Court", said that just as the court of justice has supplanted the old doctrine of "might is right", so must war give way to the civilized jurisdiction of a world court. The grim aftermath of the World war, as seen in our hospitals, must bring us to realize that the United States may no longer maintain her policy of splendid isolation, but must join forces with the nations comprising the world court.

Lothrop Willis, whose address was entitled "Religion: A Shock Absorber", called religion a much-needed stabilizing influence in our journey through a life which is becoming increasingly swift and complex. Hyatt Waggoner took fourth place with a speech on "The Awakening Interest in Education". Other speakers were George Abbott, Henry T. Emmons, and Stanley Richmond.

Students Give Recitals for Graduation Honors

Jeanette Ferrin Burgess '32 and Sara Harnden '32 gave recitals of organ music at Mead memorial chapel during the past week.

Miss Harnden's recital was presented Thursday evening, May 5. The program consisted of the following selections: Prelude, Bach; Fugue in E Minor, Bach; Pastorale, Cesar Franck; Song of the Basket Weaver, Russell; The Swan, Saint-Saens; The Volga Boatman, Nevin; Priere a Notre Dame, Boellman; Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, Diton; Fourth Movement from the Third Sonata, Borowski.

Last evening Miss Burgess played the following numbers: Pastorale, Scarlatti; Sicilienne, Bach; Fugue in G Minor, Bach; Cantabile, Cesar Franck; Piece Heroique, Cesar Franck; Springtime, Knider; The Sun, Jacob; The Rain, Jacob; Toccata, Fletcher.

The music department of the college requires that students electing music as their major subject shall give a public recital before they may graduate with honors in this department.

"LOYALTIES" TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

Galsworthy's Long Drama to Be Given Again Saturday by Dramatic Club

"Loyalties", by John Galsworthy, is to be presented tonight and Saturday night by the dramatic club as part of the junior week activity.

It is felt that this play is especially well adapted for a period such as junior week since much of the action in the play takes place at an English country house. The play should not be considered as light drama, however, for there is much tense action and some interesting psychological development.

The play was cast some time ago and intensive rehearsals have been held daily. Although the play is to be given during junior week, yet it is presented by the dramatic club and casting was open to the entire college.

The cast is as follows:

Charles Winsor	Kendall Thomas '34
Lady Adela Winsor	Ruth Berry '33
Ferdinand de Levis	Edward Yerovitz '33
Treisure	Eugene Hoyt '34
General Canynge Hyatt	Waggoner '35
Margaret Orme	Carol McNeeley '33
Captain Ronald Dancy	Kennett Stedman '34
Mabel Dancy	Barbara Perkins '35
Inspector Dede	James Judge '33
Robert	Emilio Ferrari '34
Augustus Borring	Kenneth Goodyear '33
Lord St. Erth	Emery Hutchins '34
Major Colford	Gray Taylor '32
Edward Graviter	Evan Noonan '33
Jacob Twisden	Robert Perry '32
Ricardos	Otto Prochazka '35

The curtain will be promptly at 8:15 both evenings. Reserved seats are on sale at Cushman's.

Mountain Club Members Hike to Grand View Tower

About twenty Middlebury College students and faculty members enjoyed a trip to Snake mountain last Sunday. This was the first outing under the leadership of James Banta '33, the new director of the mountain club.

The first part of the trip was made by truck to the foot of the mountain, and then came the climb of about three miles to Grand View tower at the top. Observations of the surrounding country were made from this tower. Due to the fine weather Lake Champlain, Lake George and the Adirondacks could be seen very clearly, as well as an excellent view of the Green mountains.

In the afternoon various side trips were taken in the vicinity, some of the hikers attempting to scale the cliff on the steep side of the mountain. The hikers then descended to the trucks which carried them home. This was probably the last mountain trip of the season.

THRASHER, SINGISER, VOTED OUTSTANDING IN CAMPUS BALLOT

Yeomans and Omwake are Named Best Athletes in College

STUDENTS IN FAVOR OF DRY LAW CHANGE

Kline and Jones are Chosen Most Prominent of Non-Athletes

Charles E. Thrasher '32 and Marian R. Singiser '32 were chosen the most outstanding man and woman in Middlebury in the CAMPUS questionnaire held last Thursday. The same two were named the most respected also.

George E. Yeomans '33 and Mary K. Omwake '33 were voted the outstanding athletes in their respective colleges. The outstanding non-athletes chosen were Reamer Kline '32 and Marion R. Jones '32. In compiling the results on this question the names of those men who had received letters in any sport and of those women who had been named on all-Midd teams were not considered.

Modification of prohibition was rather strongly favored in the vote on that question. Sentiment in favor of "Dutch Dates" was very strong, almost eighty per cent of the votes cast being for the affirmative. On the subject of the time of Sunday chapel in spring and fall, the total for five o'clock slightly exceeded that for all the evening hours.

French was chosen by a large plurality as the strongest department in the college. Abolition of sororities was favored by a two to one vote, and retention of fraternities by a very large majority.

Middlebury chose Herbert Hoover as its candidate for president, giving him more than half the total vote cast. Roosevelt was second, and Norman Thomas came third.

The complete vote on the questionnaire is tabulated on page four of this issue.

MEN DEBATERS WIN DECISION AT MAINE

Varsity Upholds Negative in Question of Central Control of Industries

The men's debating team won a two to one decision over the University of Maine at Orono last night. Middlebury upheld the negative of the question, resolved: that congress should enact legislation providing for the centralized control of industry.

Reamer Kline '32, and Frederick W. Brink '33, composed the team which made the trip, accompanied by William S. Weier '33, manager.

The Middlebury team maintained that control would be harmful to industry and to society as well. They also stated that the government is not qualified to control, and previous methods of doing so have proved unsatisfactory to a large extent.

The affirmative team argued that means of effective control of industry already exist and need only to be centralized in order to provide the best adjustment for society.

This contest concluded a very successful season for the debating team. Two long trips were taken in addition to the single encounters away from home against Vermont and the University of Maine. The team was victorious in all home contests, and lost only a small part of those undertaken at other colleges.

JUNIOR WEEK.

Once again junior week is here. Students will forget lessons, finals, and unpaid bills and be gay for this week of weeks at Middlebury.

The honoring of the leading men of the junior class at the traditional Waubanakee tapping will commence the week's activities. Immediately after this ceremony the baseball game with Middlebury's greatest rival, the University of Vermont, will take place. In the evening the fraternities will put on their variety show, with acts by each fraternity in competition for silver trophies given by the junior week committee.

Friday morning there is the traditional freshman-sophomore rope pull, one of the interclass contests to help determine the athletic superiority of the two lower classes. There are also two innovations in the morning's entertainment, the greased pig contest, with two representatives from each fraternity, and the Pan-Hellenic stunt, which gives the women an opportunity to demonstrate their versatility in entertainment. In the afternoon is another baseball game, this time between Williams and Middlebury.

Junior Promenade, the climax of the week, comes in the evening, with music by Felix Ferdinando, a band with an excellent reputation. Dancing will be from nine 'til two at the Middlebury Inn.

Saturday morning the fraternities will serve breakfasts for their members and guests at the fraternity houses. Then come the finals of the women's archery contest, another innovation of junior week. In the afternoon the Middlebury baseball team meets Norwich in the second of the week's state series contests, and at the same time our old rivals, Vermont, will be playing the tennis team on Hepburn courts. The junior tea will be given at the Inn late in the afternoon.

In the evening the dramatic club will repeat its play, "Loyalties", by John Galsworthy, which will be presented tonight for the first time. This will be followed by the interfraternity sing on Mead chapel steps.

Sunday is left free for individuals to make their own plans, with vespers at five. The band will give a concert on the lower campus in the evening, another new feature this year. The intersorority sing will bring junior week to a close as in past years.

But there is more than the mere entertainment to be derived from junior week. The spirit of the affair itself brings out more strongly the congeniality and friendliness apparent every day on the Middlebury campus. We are fortunate to be a small college where friendships are the rule and petty jealousies the exception. And this deeply rooted democratic spirit is especially pronounced during this time.

The same spirit of play which puts everyone in a holiday mood also affords time to look around us and realize the advantages of Middlebury. Many a Middlebury student has seen the sun sink behind the Adirondacks during junior week and the tender green of new leaves on the hills and determined to live a fuller life. For we must realize that there is more to college than books and professors, and more than extra curricular activities. It is the individual who is being educated and his education grows fastest in his hours of freedom from any definite work.

But junior week has its greatest value in its very spirit of show. We do not have yellow roadsters, imported orchestras, and afternoon tea all the time. Neither do the men habitually dress in white flannels or the women in dainty pastels. However, it is good for one to get into his best bib and tucker occasionally and strive to appear at his finest. And remember, that company manners are not entirely forgotten when the holiday is over.

Shreds and Patches

—by James S. Tyler

Here we are on the eve of the big week and we have to stop and mull over a few shreds and an occasional patch. There's one big difference between good old Noah Webster and our own book of rules. The former claims seven days for a week, in his rather well-known dictionary, while at Middlebury we have to cram junior week into three and a half. Think that over before you drop off to sleep tonight.

Credit is due somebody for that clever publicity stunt involving a few decks of over-worked cards decorated with tantalizing inscriptions and distributed after chapel, but we got one that seemed pretty frank. The card was an ace, and assured us that the prom was bound to be high! A little concentration showed that the ace sign came just before the "high", so the idea was not a crack at the depression after all.

And just when you were all set to don the festive garments and have a great big time this Friday night, we have it officially (and that officially is no joke) that Charley Boulanger has passed up his opportunity to visit the native haunts of Middleburians, and in his place we reel to none other than Felix Ferdinando. On with the dance!

Actually, my dear! Did you know that germs can have germs? That used to be the only distinction between a microbe and an elephant, but now science tells us no, there's a nasty organism called a bacteriophage which likes nothing better than a mouthful of good healthy germ now and then.

And in Japan it seems only Kappa Betes are really eligible for marriage. They have a quaint old custom of passing the wine cup between bride and groom eighteen (count 'em) times at the ceremony.

When Gamaliel Painter decided that students were going to stay at his college week-ends or he'd know the reason why, he insisted on no automobiles; but the way people up and seek parts unknown from Saturday morn to Monday, it must be pretty hard on the gentleman. We have no doubt he turned over at least a dozen times last week-end. Can't somebody do something?

Cheer up, all ye despondent wooers! Things are looking up. A questionnaire conducted by the Bryn Mawr College News revealed that a sweeping majority of that fair student body were all for marriage as opposed to a career, for love above wealth and they even recognized companionate marriage and favored it. Columbia undergraduates also perspire under a course of contemporary civilization, and their prof recently stated that there was a need for new forms of union to replace those of marriage as we know it now. And to round it all up, Vassar Daisy Chain members, who grace the campus the week before the junior prom, were treated to a series of lectures on courtship. "Will the women please remain?"

Speaking of the CAMPUS questionnaire you spent five of prexy's minutes on in chapel the other day, it's a cheerful sign that some sixty-five men received more or less scattered votes on that best-dressed question. So there's no accounting for tastes. When the ladies have stopped snickering at that, we'll add that almost as many women received votes for that attraction. No wonder Middlebury couples are the happiest college mates in Addison county!

In closing, we recommend the following as Middlebury's greatest need: A system of adjustable parking lights for the glamorous area surrounding the little pond (Passion Puddle to you). The embarassment this would save would pay for its installation several times, if rumor hasn't exaggerated. What do you think?

What's Happening

—by Edward Yerow

GOVERNMENT

National

The Patman bill, better known as the bonus bill. was adversely reported by the house ways and means committee. This bill seeking to pay veterans through the issuance of $2,400,000,000 in a new currency was the first adverse one filed by the committee in the 143 years of the house's existence.

Declaring that "nothing is more necessary at this time than balancing the budget," President Hoover attacked the past six weeks' action of the legislative bodies. He spoke of the need of economies and consolidation in governmental departments to meet the emergency. Concluding he said: "Ours is a government of all the people, created to protect and promote the common good ,and when the claims of any group or class are inconsistent with the welfare of all, they must give way."

The house passed the Muscle Shoals bill authorizing a board of three members to lease the huge Alabama property to any organization but a power or distributing company. One section allowed federal development if a private deal is impossible.

International

President Doumer of France was assassinated by a Russian czarist fanatic, Dr. Gorguloff. Until a new president is elected, the Council of Ministers rules under the constitution.

The "Hoover doctrine" which intends to put teeth in the Kellogg anti-war pact denies recognition to the results of warring by any violator.

ECONOMICS

The Rayburn bill was introduced in the house. Its purpose is to eliminate the recapture clause and give the interstate commerce commission greater discretion, placing under their control all railroad holding companies.

One southern railroad is providing free trucking for shippers, of less than carload lots, to meet truck competition.

The federal reserve bank kept its bill buying rate at two and one half per cent, a rate substantially above the market. This was taken to mean the bank of issue did not wholly approve of the rapidity with which bill rates were cut. As a result the open market discounts were raised one quarter of one per cent.

It may seem peculiar but many of our industries have been faced with starvation due to plenty — too much coal, too many operating companies, too many miners. Economic planning is the solution, say many progressives. In the perspective of half a century, the advance of government seems to have the slow inevitability of glacial movement. Viewed against the thousands of years of the history of industry, it seems rather to have the accelerating velocity of an avalanche. The only question left us, says John Corbin, is whether we shall keep on impotently abusing it or learn to control it and use it for the advancement of human happiness.

Senator La Follette proposes a national economic council appointed from a list submitted by the business world, while Gerard Swope proposes that organized industry should take the lead.

EDUCATION

The faculty committee of Rollins College believes that fraternities are an evil influence and should be abolished. They listed eleven reasons for their decision. Among the more interesting ones were: that fraternity secrecy and symbolism results in immature attitude at variance with modern educational standards; that the playing of college politics by the fraternities in their own clannish interests is an evil that will grow with the growth of fraternity groups; that mediocrity, rather than excellence in scholarship, is the aim of the fraternity, while the conditions of the fraternity living are not conductive to intellectual development.

Notice

The athletic department wishes to express its gratitute to the members of the faculty and Blue Key who have assisted in running off the last two track meets.

A college editorial chosen by the editor is printed in this column each week. It should be understood that the editorial is selected because of its treatment of the subject at hand and not because the CAMPUS endorses the opinions set forth.

CONFERENCES

Conferences with one's professors often help to put a student on the right track, but most students dislike or are afraid to ask for a conference with any of their professors or instructors. Whether they are afraid of scorn from other students, who may call them "course crabbers", or whether they are merely too modest, in any case many maladjustments would be overcome or avoided if conferences became more common.

Perhaps it would be better, since it seems so difficult for the students to take the initiative as to conferences, if the professors would make the first move. At present there are some professors who encourage conferences and who sometimes even ask individuals for interviews, but in most cases the professor has failed to make any suggestion of encouragement. It is admitted that the professor has a great deal of work to do and that conferences are outside the ordinary scope of instruction and that they are in general quite bothersome; however, the professor who is willing to take the time and effort to interview his students personally is well rewarded by their respect and friendship.

The direct associations of students with their professors are much more effective as guiding influences than are the formal class meetings, and such individual guidance is bound to bring about a feeling of gratitude on the part of the student.

Of course, there can be all sorts of conferences, but it is taken for granted that most college professors know how to conduct such conferences so that they shall best be of value to the student. In any case whether the professor or the student takes the initiative, it would be of benefit to both to promote conferences, and it would result in a college community which would be better balanced.—The Tufts Weekly.

President Moody Gives Talk on World Religion

President Paul D. Moody gave a talk on religions of the world in old chapel Friday, May 6. This is one of a series of lectures sponsored by the sociology department.

Religion in general was discussed first, then that of the western world. Judaism, Catholicism, and Protestantism were all taken up as to age, unity, efficiency, conservatism, and ritualism. In conclusion President Moody discussed the changed attitude toward the Bible, the unadjustment to science, and the materialism of today.

A Tempo Club Entertains With Program of Music

Women eligible to membership in the A Tempo club were guests at a meeting held at the music studio Wednesday, May 4, at 8 p. m. Any junior or sophomore who has had a music course and is either a member of the glee club or choir or able to play some musical instrument is qualified to join.

A program of music typical of various countries was offered. A vocal sextet gave a group of English, Hungarian, Swedish, and Russian folk songs. Cleone Ford '32 and Jeanette Burgess '32 gave piano selections representative of American and Spanish music respectively. Alice Collins '33 played a violin solo and Elly Delfs '33 sang a German song. Refreshments were served.

CLEAR VISION IN LIFE IS THEME OF VESPERS

"Loss of Perspective is Serious Drawback for Us," President Moody Asserts

President Paul D. Moody spoke at vespers last Sunday evening, taking as his text Isaiah 5:20: "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter."

President Moody believes that those who call evil good must necessarily call good evil, for there must be a certain balance. This is a complete twist given to all the moral issues of life. We cannot juggle with these issues.

He said this may be due, in a certain sense, to moral color-blindness. Actual color blindness is uncommon, but moral color blindness certainly is not. The person with that drawback is confused by the issues of life. He is not trained to distinguish right from wrong.

We must learn to distinguish between large and small, important and unimportant. If one loses a sense of perspective, he is condemned to be that hated person, the egotist.

Clear vision is necessary. Education is one aid to such a vision, and we are led to develop it by the vision of a true friend. We should cultivate those who help us to see clearly. Prayer itself is the most important aid, for, in the presence of God, things take on a new meaning. We may look into eternity, and find the true direction.

The CAMPUS honor roll consists of the most outstanding men in the senior class as selected by the president of the junior class, the dean of men, and the editor of the CAMPUS. In making these choices the scholastic average and the extent and breadth of extra curricula activity of each man was considered for his entire four years at Middlebury. It is the hope of the CAMPUS that selection on its honor roll will become a position of distinction and that the time of its appearance, a few weeks before commencement, will add to its being considered the final summary of a man's service to Middlebury during his college career.

BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY THREE GAMES

U. V. M., Williams, Norwich to Provide the Opposition in Junior Week Contests

The Middlebury baseball team is scheduled to meet Vermont, Williams, and Norwich this week and will then travel to Providence to encounter the Brown nine next Wednesday.

The Vermont game will be the second state series contest for the Blue and White. Rutkowski, Vermont's star hurler who has been out for three weeks with tonsilitis is expected to be back and will probably pitch against the Panther aggregation. On its southern trip Vermont won two and lost six. Norwich also defeated the Cats. Boston university which Middlebury beat 9-7 defeated U. V. M. but was downed in a return game 11-6.

Williams will bring a strong team up for the game Friday. Their star pitcher, Filley, lead the Purple to a 7-1 win over Amherst letting them down with only three hits. Amherst already has beaten Middlebury 7-0. The Massachusetts outfit also has victories over Norwich and Mass. State and was just nosed out by Princeton 4-3. Captain Rose, centerfielder, and Fowler, first baseman, are the big guns of the attack.

Norwich which is to be faced Saturday is a heavy hitting aggregation. Vermont was defeated by a 12-2 score, as Stufflebeam, their hurler, limited the Cats to six hits. The Blue and White will have to be at their best to take the Cadets.

Middlebury will line up as usual against their three opponents. Practice is being held regularly with concentration on the batting. Stefaniak, who has not pitched since he won the opener against Springfield will probably draw the assignment in the Vermont game while Barker and Anderson are sure to see action against either Williams or Norwich.

Next week the squad will leave for Providence where it will encounter Brown Wednesday. Brown boasts a 7-4 victory over Boston university which has been the only common opponent of the two teams to date. They have victories over Lowell Textile and New Hampshire while losing to Holy Cross. This promises to be a close game and the pitching will probably be the deciding factor in the outcome.

Tennis Team Victorious in Four Matches, Loses One

The Blue and White tennis team got off to a flying start, defeating St. Michael's, St. Lawrence, Ithaca, and Clark university during the past week. Yesterday Worcester Tech downed the Blue and White by a 6-3 score.

The first three matches were played on the local courts, while the Clark game marked the first of a series of three matches played at Worcester.

Middlebury defeated St. Michael's 6-3, and St. Lawrence was beaten 5-1. Ithaca was no match for the Panther netmen and was shutout 6-0. Against Clark the Middlebury netmen were forced to extend themselves and while the Blue had a clear margin, as indicated by the score, all the matches were close. By making a clean sweep of the doubles Middlebury came out on top.

To date Flagg remains undefeated and has been the outstanding man on the team, while the Panthers have captured every double match but one.

Victor and Daniel Riccio Golf Tournament Finalists

The finals of the individual golf tournament were to have been played off yesterday between Daniel Riccio '32 and Victor Riccio '34 but are scheduled to take place today instead.

Daniel Riccio defeated Walter Nelson in the semi-finals in order to qualify for the finals, while Victor Riccio, his brother, defeated Lester Eaton in the last round. Both Riccios have been prominent in golf since coming to Middlebury.

The results of the tournament are to be a basis upon which this year's golf team will be selected. Players showing well will become members of the team.

Middlebury Nine Defeats B.U. in First Home Game

The Middlebury baseball team opened its home season last Friday with a 9-7 victory over Boston university.

The brilliant pitching of Barker, who relieved Olson in the second, and the hitting of Makela were the outstanding features of the game. The former gave only two hits in the seven and one-third innings he worked while striking out ten.

The visitors scored twice in the first on a walk and a hit, but the Panthers came right back to count four times on two walks, a single, and Makela's home run.

B. U. chalked up three runs in the second but Midd counted twice in that inning and twice again in the third. Then there was no more scoring until the eighth when the Bostonians pushed two more men across the plate on Blakeman's triple, sandwiched in by errors but the Blue tallied one in the same frame. B. U. was retired in order in the last stanza ending the game.

Middlebury 5 — St. Michael's 4

The Middlebury baseball team played and won its first game against state opposition at Winooski Tuesday afternoon, May 3, defeating St. Michael's by the score of 5-4. The Blue and White took an early lead and then withstood a three run ninth inning rally to bring the game to a dramatic close.

Big Carl Anderson was on the mound for the Panthers, and did a good job of the pitching. He was particularly effective with his speedball in the early innings.

NETMEN ENCOUNTER HOLY CROSS TODAY

Next Two Matches Will Be Played on Home Courts With Vermont and Tufts

The Middlebury tennis team met Holy Cross at Worcester this afternoon to wind up its series of matches there, and will return in time to encounter the University of Vermont netmen on the Hepburn courts Saturday afternoon. Next Wednesday they will play host to Tufts.

The Vermont team's record does not read very well as far as victories go. U. V. M. opened its campaign with a trip south to Massachusetts, where it bowed to Amherst, Worcester, and Boston U., but then took on winning ways to defeat St. Lawrence, 4-2. The Blue and White scored one more point against the St. Lawrence team than its Burlington rivals did, the score being 5-1.

Vermont has as its star, a sophomore, Hugh Wilson, who with "Lefty" Flagg of the Panther team, should provide a splendid match when the two aggregations meet. Both players defeated the St. Lawrence ranking singles player, Bittner; Flagg winning 6-3, 6-3, and Wilson triumphing 6-1, 6-2. An extra set match seems likely when these men meet.

Tufts has played but one match thus far defeating Providence college 5-1, which is usually represented by a strong aggregation.

DKE and DU are Finalists in Intramural Baseball

DU and DKE are finalists in the intramural baseball tournament which will be played off next week. DU had an easy victory but the DKE-SPE game was much closer. The score by innings follows:

Delta Upsilon	2	3	1	0	9—15
Neutrals	1	2	1	2	0— 6

Batteries, DU, Bakeman, Newman; Neutrals, Zigler, Yerovitz, Taylor.

Delta Kappa Epsilon	2	0	1	2	2	0	0		—7
Sigma Phi Epsilon	0	0	1	0	1	0	2		—4

Batteries DKE, Markowski, MacKenzie; SPE, Wardell, DeVries.

Middlebury Trackmen Pile Up High Score Against B. U.

The Middlebury track team defeated Boston university at Porter field last Saturday afternoon. The Terriers were completely overwhelmed by the Panthers, who scored eleven firsts to win by a final score of 101-34.

The Blue had considerable margin both in the field and running events. On the track Middlebury piled up fifty-seven points to B. U.'s fifteen, and lead in the field forty-four to nineteen.

Brown and MacLean showed their usual versatility, each placing in four events, and amassing fourteen and ten points respectively. Adams, Saunders, and Bloom, furnished the Terriers with twenty-eight of their thirty-four points.

The century and 220 had close finishes between Bloom of B. U. and Prochazka, with the Middlebury runner taking the hundred and just losing the longer run.

Middlebury scored complete shut-outs in the quartermile and mile and took first in the 880 and two mile.

MacLean took first in the high hurdles but dropped the lows to Roberts while Mathewson of Middlebury took third.

Brown showed his usual good form in winning the broad jump, while the high jump resulted in a triple tie between Schoonmaker, Brown, and MacLean. Barker won the discus, and Watson was first in the hammer throw.

The summaries:

100 yard dash: won by Prochazka (M); second, Bloom (BU); third, Bibby (M). Time: 10.4.

220 yard dash: won by Bloom (BU); second, Prochazka (M); third, Montgomery (M). Time: 23.3.

440 yard run: won by Boehm (M); second, Chalmers (M); third, Fallon (M). Time: 53.8.

880 yard run: won by Fallon (M); second, Smith (BU); third, Hunter (M). Time: 2:08.

Mile run: won by Short (M); second, Hunter (M); third, Chase (M). Time: 4:47.2.

Two mile run: won by Sears (M); second, Corcerri (BU); third Seymour (M). Time: 10:28.

120 yard high hurdles: won by MacLean (M); second, Roberts (M); third, Adams (BU). Time 16.5.

220 yard low hurdles: won by Roberts

FIFTEEN MEN TO GO TO E. I. C. A. A. MEET

Middlebury May Finish High at Worcester With Two Strong Opponents Out

Coach Brown will take about fifteen men to Worcester to compete in the annual E. I. C. A. A. meet being held there this week-end.

This will be a larger squad than has made the trip in the past few years, but Middlebury this season stands a good chance of being up with the leading scorers. Northeastern and Springfield, the two strongest teams in the association are not scheduled to compete as both have dual meets Saturday.

Freshmen are ineligible to participate in the intercollegiates, so Middlebury will be unable to use Barker, Boehm, Evans, Hunter, Mathewson, Prochazka, and Whitney, all of whom have been point winners in past meets.

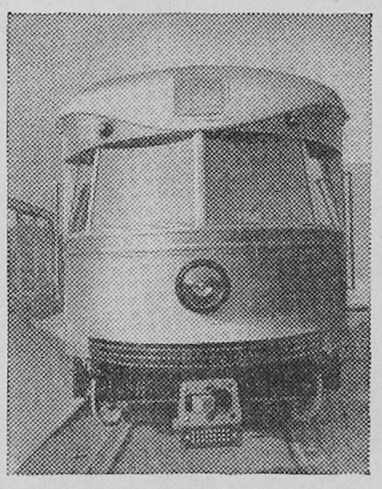
"ELECTRIC BULLETS"



THE result of exhaustive wind-tunnel tests of conventional trolley car models revealed that at speeds of 70 and 80 miles per hour, 70 per cent of the total power was consumed in overcoming air resistance. Streamlining saves approximately 20 per cent of the power.

When the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company decided to replace its cars with faster and more efficient equipment, it chose "electric bullets"—new streamlined cars—each powered by 4 G-E 100-hp. motors. The cars, constructed of aluminum alloy, with tapered noses and tails, are much lighter in weight and capable of greater operating efficiency.

In developing transportation apparatus, college-trained General Electric engineers have conducted extensive tests to improve operating conditions. On land, on sea, and in the air, to-day's equipment is safer, swifter, more dependable, and more comfortable.

SORORITIES DRAW UP TRIAL RESOLUTIONS

Representative Committee Proposes That Rushing Be Postponed for Year

A committee representing the individual sororities met last Saturday and drew up the resolutions printed below. If they are accepted by a simple majority within the fraternity, and by five out of six fraternities, they will be put into effect directly. The decision of the fraternities must be reached by 10:00 p. m. Monday, May 16, and delegates to the new league must be elected.

Resolved that:

1. In view of the fact that there is so much discussion of abolition and so much indecision in policy, we recommend that rushing be deferred for one year, beginning with the fall of 1932.

2. Two members from each fraternity and two delegates from the neutral body compose a league which shall formulate and reconstruct a social program heretofore provided by the fraternities.

3. Monthly reports concerning the progress of this program be submitted to the individual fraternity bodies and to the neutral body by a representative member of the league.

4. The yearly program for the incoming freshman class be under the direction of a committee chosen by the chairman, who is a member of the student government council and in charge of freshman week. There shall be representatives of W. A. A. and Mortar Board on this committee.

5. In May, 1933, a final report of the league will be submitted and the question of abolition will be brought to a vote.

6. If four out of six, or five out of six have a three-quarters vote within the fraternity in favor of abolition, the request of the fraternities to be abolished will be presented to the president, the dean of women, and the board of trustees.

This set of resolutions was presented to the fraternities Monday night for discussion.

FIFTEEN TRACK MEN GO TO WORCESTER

Among the teams which will compete are Connecticut Agricultural college, Massachusetts State, Rhode Island State, Tufts, Worcester Polytechnic, Norwich, and Middlebury. Of these teams Rhode Island State would appear to be the strongest at this time.

MacLean, Brown, Sears, and Fallon are the best bets for Middlebury. As in past meets the first two will probably double up, but in view of the stern competition it is hardly to be expected that either will collect as many points as in previous weeks. However, they should gather points in the events in which they are entered, although they may not win first places. MacLean will be especially hard to beat in the hurdles, while Brown will cause the winner of the broad jump to leap nearly a record length if he is to be beaten.

The qualifying heats will be run off Saturday morning, and the finals will take place in the afternoon.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why are other cigarettes silent on this vital question?

DO you inhale? Seven out of ten people know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So be careful. Safeguard your delicate membranes!
